Description: IA COVID-19 P&C Insurance News Releases & Bulletins

Will my travel insurance cover trip cancellation costs?

Most travel policies will not cover cancellations due to coronavirus. If your policy does provide benefits, the benefits may be very limited. You should check your policy and call your insurer if you have questions regarding coverage.

Travel insurance policies vary depending on the insurance carrier and the optional endorsements added to the policy. We recommend reviewing any policy in detail prior to purchase to verify what benefits, if any, may be payable in the event of cancellation.

The National Association of Insurance Commissioners has provided some guidance regarding travel insurance.
